JUNIOR WEEKEND 1967

THE CRITTERS

The Critters will perform at the Junior Class Mixer on Friday, April 21, 1967 at the Parkinson Gymnasium. They will perform two forty-five minute shows, and an additional band will provide dancing music before each show.

The Critters are five young men from New Jersey who first gained national recognition with their recording of "Younger Girl." This hit record was followed shortly by "Mr. Dieingly Sad" and their latest hit, "We've Got the Marrying Kind of Love."

THE POZO-SECO SINGERS

The Pozo-Seco Singers will be the feature attraction of the Junior Class Concert on Sunday, April 23, 1967, at the New Auditorium at 2:00 p.m. This two-hour concert will be the climax of the four-day Junior Weekend.

The Pozo-Seco Singers have come a long way since they first met at a small college folk festival in Texas. Their first recording, "Time," became a best-seller almost immediately, and remained on the record charts for several months. This was followed by "I'll Be Gone," and their most recent recording, "I Can Make It With You, Baby."

All seats will be reserved. Tickets may be purchased in the Thompson Hall Lobby.

JUNIOR WEEKEND 1967

Plans presently being completed for Junior Weekend 1967 indicate that for the first time in the history of Fitchburg State College we will have a four-day weekend. In the past, primarily due to lack of funds, Junior Weekend has consisted of a dinner-dance and a concert. This year, thanks to the largest budget ever awarded by S.G.A., the co-operation of the Senior Class and the Commuters' Board, and the success of the Thanksgiving Mixer and the Junior Class Movies, the Junior Class has had the money, and the time to plan a gala four-day weekend.

The weekend will begin with the Turtle Trot on Thursday night at 8:00 p.m. in Parkinson Gymnasium. This event, a popular one among the Ivy League colleges, will actually be a qualifying race for the first annual Intercollegiate Turtle Trot to be held on Saturday, April 29 at Northeastern University. The top three entries will go on to Northeastern to represent Fitchburg State College. Full details of this event can be found elsewhere in this issue. The Turtle Trot will be preceded by a Baseball Rally for a big doubleheader with Farmington, Maine on Friday afternoon. Coach Carson is looking forward to a good season, and if the team gets off to a good start, there is no telling where they will end up. This will be an excellent chance to show our players that we are all behind them.

On Friday night, the Junior Class Mixer will be held in Parkinson Gymnasium. The main attraction will be The Critters. This will be a unique first for Fitchburg State College — a combination concert and dance. The Critters will perform two forty-minute shows, for which the bleachers will provide seating space. Before and after each of these shows, a local band will provide dancing music. This will be an event you won't want to miss.

Saturday will be devoted to Juniors. A giant Scavenger Hunt will be held at 10:00 at Coolidge Park, to be followed immediately by the Junior-Senior Picnic. A full slate of contests has been planned, with prizes awarded to the winners. In case of inclement weather, alternate activities will be planned in Parkinson Gym.

The Junior Dinner-Dance will be held on Saturday night at the Speare House in Lowell, Massachusetts. This is a semi-formal affair, meaning that proper attire will be suits for men and evening dresses for women. Flowers are optional. Tickets for this event are included in the Junior Class Special, which may be ordered at the ticket booth in Thompson Hall Lobby.

The climax of the Weekend will be the Junior Class Concert featuring The Pozo-Seco Singers on Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. in the New Auditorium.

On behalf of the Junior Class, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Senior Class and the Commuters' Board for their financial assistance, our class sponsor, Mr. Ehrlich, and Dean Fitzgibbon for their advice and assistance, and the diligent committee members who have worked so hard to make Junior Weekend 1967 a success. Without their help, this Weekend would not have been possible.

I would also like to extend an invitation to all FSC students to attend the activities on Thursday, Friday and Sunday in order to prove to the Administration and the many disbelievers on campus that the students of Fitchburg State College really are interested, and that they will back something worthwhile.

Paul W. Celuzza
Junior Class President

TURTLE TROT

On April 20, the Junior Class will sponsor a Turtle Trot in the gymnasium. The top three entries will be sent to Northeastern on April 29 to compete with the Ivy Leagues. The rules to be followed both at Fitchburg and Northeastern are the following:

FIRST ANNUAL INTERCOLLEGIATE TURTLE TROT RULES

1. Any recognized group or organization of the college or university may enter. (This includes dormitory sections, classes, fraternities, clubs, sports teams, student governing bodies, etc.)

Note: A maximum of three (3) entrants will be accepted from any one college or university.

2. The turtle:
 - a. Shall have a bottom shell of length no greater than six (6) inches.
 - b. Shall not be a snapping turtle.
 - c. Shall not be drugged or given any other form of stimulant.
 - d. Shall not wear sneakers or track shoes.
 - e. Will be inspected by the Husky Key Society's attending physician and turtle expert.

3. Only the manager will be allowed to enter the racing area.
 - a. Manager will release the turtle at the starting line at a given signal.
 - b. Manager will leave racing area as soon as race begins.
 - c. Any manager stepping on or in any way obstructing a turtle other than his own shall have his turtle removed from the race.
4. The turtle shall move from the starting line to the finish line by using only its four legs. Artificial devices of any kind are prohibited.
5. The first turtle that completely crosses the finish line is the winner.
6. All turtles shall be of the live variety, with no mechanical or other inventions permitted.
7. The turtle's number must be visible.
 - a. The turtle may not be painted.
 - b. The numbers should either be cut out of some form of tape or should be marked on tape and then put on the turtle's upper shell.
 - c. The number should be readable at a distance of at least ten feet.
 - d. Any other decorations may be used.
8. The decisions of the Husky Key Society and its appointed judges and officials of the race shall be final.
9. All entries must be received at least three weeks before the date of the race.

The racing area is a circular area of radius 29 feet. At the center of this area is a circle of radius 4 feet. This circle is the starting line. The turtles race from the inner circle across the finish line, which is the outer circle.

Qualifying heats with between 15 and 20 turtles in each, shall be held. The fastest turtles in each heat will advance to the finals. The final race will have between 15 and 20 turtles in it — an equal number qualifying from each of the preliminary heats.

SP4 F. DEIGNAN SELECTED BBde DECEMBER SOM

The following article has been taken from an army newspaper, "The Berlin Observer." Since this has been released, Francis J. Deignan, Jr. has been awarded an engraved watch, a twenty-five dollar Savings Bond, a week's (all expenses paid) trip to Paris, and a year's membership in the Association of the U. S. Army.

Specialist Four Francis J. Deignan, Jr. has been selected as the December Berlin Brigade Soldier of the Month. Specialist Deignan is assigned to Headquarters and Headquarters Company, Special Troops.

Specialist Deignan, 23, has been a member of the company since August of 1966. He is currently serving with the company as a clerk typist.

He entered the Army on March 31, 1966; completed basic training at Fort Dix, New Jersey in June; and was then assigned to advanced individual training at Fort Dix.

The December Soldier of the Month is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Deignan of 42 Collins St., Worcester, Mass. He graduated from North High School in Worcester and Fitchburg State College, Fitchburg, Mass.

Before entering the service, Specialist Deignan was a teacher with the Worcester Public School System. He was named vice-president of Phi Delta Pi in 1965.

Specialist Deignan was selected as the Special Troops Soldiers of the Month early in December. He then competed against other battalion soldiers of the month before final selection as the Berlin Brigade Soldier of the Month.

He was chosen on the basis of his knowledge of military subjects, current events, personal appearance, aptitude and familiarization with his job and a final selection by a review board.

Linda L. Peterson, Ronald Peterson, Albert Pierce, Linda H. Purdy, Raymond Racette, James Riordan, Joso Rodriques, Francis Rolinson, Beverly Ruggeri, Barbara J. THEY CARE

The C.I.A. has been quietly operating on our campus. Under cover of darkness, several F.S.C. coeds rush off to a rendezvous in the secluded hills of a nearby village. Many students at least once a week are seen visiting some private home and then leaving with one of its occupants for such mysterious exploits as a walk in the woods, mingling with the fans at a ball game, or gaining anonymity by a trip to the big city.

The above is only a small sampling of the comings and goings of the men and women from SP. ED. These students are really involved and the impact of their action is leaving an indelible mark on the surrounding communities.

The C.I.A. is nothing more sinister than Coeds in Action, a small group of Special Ed. and Elementary students who have generously given of themselves to bring joy to those who have so little of that precious commodity. Organized by sophomores Janice Curry and Judith Armstrong, the C.I.A. has been providing dance partners for the mentally retarded members of the Fernald Colony in Templeton, Mass. In the past, when recreation director Richard Mahan organized a dance, it seriously lacked one element, partners for his "kids" (average mental age — 5 or 6). Now, thanks to the C.I.A. the dances are a great success and, incidentally, the girls claim that these fellows are quite the good dancers.

Under the vigorous leadership of President Rick Crowley, this Special Ed. Club program has been successful enough to warrant a similar program in every community.

The Big Brother, Big Sister Program, under the auspices of the Club, has provided many mentally retarded children in the nearby communities with companions in the person of one of our own students. For one or two hours a week these students attempt to open, and for the most part succeed, new horizons for the young mentally retarded child. A walk in the country, a shopping trip, a dip in the pool — in this manner the young mentally retarded child and his Big Brother or Sister enjoy their hours together.

If this were all our students had accomplished, it would be impressive, but it is only a small part of a marvelous picture. Special Ed. students are every day working actively in the area communities with such worthwhile groups as the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts for the mentally retarded; teaching the basics of their religion to mentally retarded and multiply handicapped children. Young people from F.S.C. are working in shifts to help a paralysed youngster in a nearby town. Here they give hours of their time helping to exercise the muscles of this young boy in the hope that in time his coordination will return.

In an age when students have been under heavy criticism for being irresponsible, these F.S.C. representatives offer a striking retort. They have recognized the beauty and goodness of the retardate or the handicapped. They care. They are acting in a most positive manner, bringing happiness both to those with whom they work and unquestionably to themselves. These are the swingers from F.S.C., these are the students-a-go-go, these are sensitive, bright young people so very representative of a great new generation.

THE INS AND OUTS OF COLLEGE LIFE

Purple and Maroon are in — navy blue is out.
Philodemics are always in.
War is in — peace is out.
Mazeika is in — seniors are out.
Individualism is in — conformity is out.
Rumors are in — truth is out.
The brook is in — S.G.A. picnics are out (maybe).
Campus police are always out (to lunch).
The Adventurers, by Harold Robbins, is definitely in.
Midterms are in — warnings are out.
Illusion is in — reality is out.
Lynn Sullivan's knees are in — Bob Ruberti's are out.
Bruce Nordstrum is always in — Dan Pugh is out.
Englishman was in — American had been in.
Parting thought for the entire Freshman Class and some of us narrow-minded upperclassmen — do not let rumors and prejudiced statements rule your own line of thought; the only way to know for yourself is through investigation. Investigate the source of the rumor, investigate the person who made the statement and why, and investigate yourself — for through experiences (more than one) one can make a just and proper decision of his or her own. Remember: ignorance is ignorance!

 It seems Tony Jr. is not the only youngster in the dorm.
 New game for Sonny Liston — "Dodge the Landlord."
 Congratulations to the Freshman Class for their mature behavior at Professor Olsen's lecture.
 Rick Smith is moving out — or was it sleeping in?
 There's a very worried young lady in Palmer Hall.

LUCY LOVELORN

Dear Lucy,

I am a college student, and I guess what you might call a "mod"; that is, I wear my hair long. The problem is my girl. She insists that the hair goes or she goes. Lucy, I love this girl, but I just can't bear to part with my locks. What do I do?

Mad Mod

Dear Mad,

Your problem has a simple solution: either take to the scissors or be prepared to get the brush!

Dear Lucy,

For the past year and a half, I have been dying to date a really sharp guy I'll call John. I don't seem to be getting anywhere, but at the same time, I don't want to appear forward. How can I get him to take me out without my appearing pushy?

B. C. '69

Dear B. C.,

A year and a half seems like a long enough waiting period. John could be shy, so try to make him feel at ease. Flash your best smile to him whenever you see him; find out what he's interested in, investigate it, and talk about it to him. Remember . . . "if Mohammed won't come to the mountain, let the mountain come to Mohammed."

* * *

Do you need advice? If so, send your problem to LUCY LOVELORN, c/o Box No. 75. Initials and class year must be included.

SENIOR REVIEW

On March 9, 1967 most seniors could be found attending the Senior Supper, held at the Elks' Club in Leominster. Joseph Connelly welcomed the class sponsor Miss Roache and the one hundred seventy people in attendance. Entertainment was provided by guest speaker Walter Flaherty and the music of the Ray Lamothe Orchestra.

Coming events that the Class of 1967 will enjoy are the Senior Picnic, the Spring Social, the Senior Prom, Class Day, and, finally, graduation.

Decisions are now being made for a Glass gift by a senior committee headed by Paul Moiseaux. All suggestions are welcome.

SOPHOMORE ENTERPRISE

Looking for something different? Tired of the same old rut? Well, take heart, old friend the variety show is coming.

The Sophomore Class is sponsoring a variety show to be held on Sunday evening April 16 at 8:00 to 10:30 p.m., in the auditorium. The cost per person is fifty cents. The Talent will consist of club skits as well as individual and group endeavors. An enjoyable evening is certain.

Anyone who would like to participate should contact either Phil Airoidi, Box 6 or Pam Beelher, Box 61.

MACBETH

King James the first of England was crowned in the year 1604. He was Scottish and was reported to have an unusual preoccupation with witchcraft. According to Holinshed's "Chronicle," James was a direct descendant of Banquo. The play "Macbeth" was written for James which presents an odd riddle connected with the play. Elizabeth I of England was a patroness of Shakespeare during her reign as Queen. The riddle lies in the fact that Shakespeare made no reference to her like other playwrights and authors of his time, in fact, one of the few references he makes to the Queen is in the play "Macbeth" written after her death. It is not a complimentary one:

"Upon my head they plac'd a fruitless crown

And put a barren sceptre in my gripe,

Thence to be wrenched with an unlineal hand,

No son of mine succeeding."

(III,i, 61-64)

In the "Chronicle" Banquo is depicted as an accomplice to the murder of the king, while Shakespeare shows him to be completely outside it.

Much has been written about the play "Macbeth" in literary as well as psychological terms. The play is one of Shakespeare's best, but in light of the political implications of Shakespeare's refusal to pay incessant homage to Elizabeth and his unusual consideration of a foreign king, the play becomes one of even greater significance.

Plays by Shakespeare are rarely performed by college drama clubs. Shakespeare, therefore, lives a bookshelf life in the institutions of higher learning throughout the country. When a play of Shakespeare is performed anywhere, it becomes an event not to be missed.

Early in March, preparation began by the drama club at Fitchburg State College for a full production of "Macbeth." The plans are to produce a fully costumed, fully staged, and accurate performance of this great play. All new sets are to be built. The cast contains veteran performers with a background of Summer Stock Repertory Theatre as well as experience in the past, at Fitchburg, with many of Shakespeare's major plays. Under the guidance of the very capable director Eugene Cassasa, the new members of the Drama Club are fast becoming of veteran calibre.

In order to foster an appreciation of both Shakespeare and the theatre, the full production of "Macbeth" will be performed three nights in hopes of attracting high school students. It is hoped that the students of Fitchburg State will constitute the largest portion of the audience. The dates which have been set are May 3, 4, and 5.

Fitchburg's production of "Macbeth" was born out of a love for Shakespeare and of acting, and we hope will mature into a memorable evening for those who enjoy theatre at its best.

CLUB NEWS

ESOTERICS

The Esoteric Society has changed the order of their Greek letters. As of February, 1967, they are Delta Phi Pi.

Final plans are being completed for our first annual alumni yearbook. The editors are Ed Marks and Ralph Le-Clair. The staff under Sonny Liston, Alumni Chairman, consists of: Robert Alves, Carl Senftleben, Bob Donohue, Mike McCarthy, Brad Lawson, John Dignam, and Ed Willwerth.

On March 17, 1967 the brothers held their first Friday nighter. A good discussion and a feeling of brotherhood made the evening worthwhile. Plans have been made for another meeting on April 14, with Dr. Browning as the guest speaker.

ADELPHIANS

Last Tuesday, April 11 the Adelphean Society held its annual tea. The lobby of Miller Hall was decorated in oriental fashion. Girls entered the Oriental Gardens to share in the fun of refreshments, singing, and learning more about the Adelphean sisters.

Coming events for the month of May include a pledge party and the Adelphean banquet.

FENWICKS

Pi Sigma Upsilon remained proud of their strong showing in intramural sports as the Blue team reached the finals in the basketball championship this winter. We are presently in the volleyball league and are looking forward to softball in the spring.

We would like to congratulate the brothers who made the Dean's List this semester: Dick Perreault, Charlie Panagiotis, Ron Valente, Gary Mitchell, and Bob Hunter.

Recently a presentation of a club jacket was made to Mr. David Settele as the Honorary Sponsor of the organization. At this time the brothers would like to thank him for all the aid he has given us thus far this year.

The club formal is now set for May 13, and orders have been taken for spring jackets and other articles, which should be arriving in five weeks.

PHILODEMIC SOCIETY

On November 19, 1966 the Philodemic Society Formal was held at the Peterboro Motor Inn in Peterboro, New Hampshire from 8-12 midnight. Approximately 35 sisters and their dates were present. The guest list was headed by President and Mrs. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Mazeika, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Durant, and our sponsor, Miss Peterson. All seemed to enjoy the evening very much.

Christmas was a busy time for the sisters. It included decorating the Christmas Tree in Thompson Hall, passing out candy canes to the student body, and caroling at a Christmas Party for the patients at Mt. Elam Nursing Home.

Plans are now under way for a spring Make-Up Show on April 11, 1967 and our activities regarding pledging.

COAST GUARD INVITES

WASHINGTON, D. C. — College seniors or graduates can fulfill their military obligation as officers in the U. S. Coast Guard. Qualified applicants are notified of selection for Officer Candidate School before they enlist.

OCS classes convene in September and February at the Coast Guard Reserve Training Center in historic Yorktown, Virginia. There the carefully selected college graduates receive 17 weeks of intensive, highly specialized training. Upon graduation they are commissioned as ensigns in the Coast Guard Reserve and serve on active duty for three years. Those qualified may be offered flight training.

Coast Guard officers receive the same pay and benefits as officers of other Armed Forces. Included are 30 days of annual leave and free medical and dental care.

Peacetime duties of the Coast Guard include law enforcement, search and rescue, oceanographic research, marine safety, and the maintenance of aids to navigation.

Information on the U.S. Coast Guard Officer Candidate School may be obtained from Commandant (PTP-2), U. S. Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington, D. C. 20226 or the nearest Coast Guard Recruiter.

MOHAWKS

The Mohawk Club is pleased to welcome its new club sponsor, Mr. Robert Shaughnessy, in his first year of teaching in the Math-Science Department. Mr. Shaughnessy is from Fitchburg and is a graduate of Fitchburg State College. He attended graduate school at Worcester Polytech, and the California Institute of Technology.

The Club is also happy to announce next year's club officers. They are:

President James Catalini
Vice-President .. Bruce Nordstrom
Treasurer Robert Day
Recording Secretary, Francis Baran
Corresponding Secretary James Besarkarski

The Club functions held in the past few months include the first joint interfraternity, sorority social held with the Philodemic Society and the annual Spring Costume Party for Club members and their dates.

TOKE NEWS

On April 5th in Miller Hall the Tokes held their annual Mad Hatter's Tea. This tea is designed in order to familiarize the freshmen woman with the ToKalon Society. President Barbara Nelson delivered a speech illustrating the aims and activities of the club. An enjoyable time was had by both the members and the freshman.

At the present time the Tokes have undertaken a drive for the Lions Club of Fitchburg. We are collecting eyeglasses which are either broken or of no use to the owners. These glasses will be distributed to the families of Greater Fitchburg who are in need of them.

The Tokes are eagerly anticipating the pledge sign-up day. There are many activities such as the Christmas Party for the Dillon School, the formal, and others which the members are looking forward to conducting with the assistance of the new pledges.

If any prospective members have any questions concerning the club, please feel free to contact President Barbara Nelson or ask any of the members who can be identified by their light blue blazers.

PEACE CORPS

On April 21, Miss Helen Tshudy, of Mt. Holyoke College, and Mr. Fred Daly, of Dusquene University, and Miss Katrina Helebush spoke during the All College period on the aims of the Peace Corps, and showed films on its work in Brazil.

With regard to the aims of the Peace Corps, one of the main points stressed was that volunteers do not have the Americanization of foreign peoples as their goal, but rather work toward the achievement of economic independence and stability. Further stressed was the point that this goal of economic stability will not be achieved by the Peace Corps workers alone, but only through the co-operation of the people and countries who have set this goal.

The films of Peace Corps work in Brazil told, far more eloquently than words, of the desperate need of these people for understanding, consideration, and co-operation in the fields of medicine, science, agriculture, and education.

This brief expose of Peace Corps people, purposes and practices provided one of the most interesting and enlightening All College periods of the semester.

STUDENTS

The two brave men
Armed only with books —
Words of mute desolation —
Think not of the looks
Thrown by less cultured men,
But only their supra-vocation.

They march from the building
Through gold garnished doors —
Symbols of high education —
To walk upon floors
Where greater have walked,
Seeking their white-warm salvation.

PEACE CORPS VOLUNTEERS FIND JOB-RELATED PROBLEMS HARDEST

What are the biggest problems faced by Peace Corps Volunteers in the field?

Answer: job-related hurdles.

Other major problems, cited by more than 4,000 Volunteers who completed service during a two-year period ending in October, 1965, were:

Lack of support from host country officials (mentioned as a problem by 69 per cent of the Volunteers); apathy among host country nationals toward helping themselves (79 per cent); a frustrating work experience (79 per cent); and lack of an effective counterpart (55 per cent).

However, said a Peace Corps summary of the Volunteers' end-of-service attitudes, "The most striking feature of the responses was the tendency of the Volunteers not to consider most of the problems as serious."

Of the 4,251 Peace Corps Volunteers who completed service between the spring of 1963 and fall of 1965, 91 per cent said they were satisfied with their overseas experience and 94 per cent said they would volunteer again, although one in five would choose a new country.

As expected, the types and intensity of problems varied by region. Volunteers in Africa (80 per cent of whom were teachers) found fewer problems than Latin American based Volunteers, most of whom were assigned to a less-structured type of work: community development.

Problems relating to conditions found in the host country were seldom rated as "serious" by Volunteers, but interesting regional differences emerged.

Lack of interest by host country nationals in Peace Corps undertakings and "excessive social demands" were least often a problem for Africa Volunteers. Far East Volunteers cited the latter problem most frequently.

Volunteers serving in the Near East and South Asia appear to have had the hardest time with local disinterest in Peace Corps projects and unfriendly attitudes.

Problems of personal adjustment — once thought to be the major obstacle to successful overseas service — were rarely singled out as serious.

Although half of the Volunteers lived in rural areas and two out of five considered their assignment to have been isolated, few reported physical hardship, disease or general living conditions to be a serious problem.

Perhaps the most serious problem? Dating. More than a third said it was a problem, including ten per cent who felt it had been a serious one.

MIB ACTIVITIES

Last fall, four freshmen joined the Men's Intramural Board. Phil Reid, Ed Flynn, Bob Morin and "Murph The Surf" rounded out the board to fifteen members. With the co-operation of the Physical Education Department, a schedule of spring athletics has been planned. A ten team volleyball league is presently in full swing. An inside source has it that the Independents are once again the team to beat. The annual ping-pong tournament is in its initial stage, with a champion to be determined the last week in April. The endless snow will undoubtedly delay the softball season, but with a little bit of luck things should be under way by the third week of April. Due to the success and interest of last fall's cross-country meet, the event will be repeated, probably during the first week of May. So keep in shape. Better clean off the old clubs and save up your golf balls. The MIB is sponsoring a golf tournament sometime in May. "Nelse" and "Fast Jack" are already putting on their parlor rug and promise to be strong contenders. Scheduling for these events will be posted on the MIB bulletin board in Thompson Hall Lobby.

MIB OLYMPICS

Unfortunately, the annual All-College Olympics never materialized last year. However, this year "the games" are to be the main function of the MIB's spring agenda. A full evening of activities is being planned through an MIB committee headed by Jim Catalini. A three-legged race, a potato sack race, a wheelbarrow race and an orange relay are but a few of the intended events. Also, the MIB basketball all-stars will be introduced, and an M.V.P. trophy will be awarded.

This promises to be a very entertaining evening, but its success depends upon the interest of the whole student body and the organization of class and club officers. So keep the All-College Olympics in mind, and remember, that this event is open to the whole student body.

1967 TENNIS TEAM

The 1967 Tennis Team under Captain Tom Turner is looking forward to one of their finest seasons ever. The team has been practicing indoors during the winter months to recapture the NESCAC Championship, which they won two years ago. Besides Tom, who is a senior, those who returned from last year include John Andrews, Steve Chapdelain, and Dave Maus, also seniors, Paul Celuzza and Steve Cornwall, juniors, and Brad Lawson, a sophomore. A new addition and a fine prospect for the team is Bob Dionne. The season for the netmen will begin Saturday, April 22, at 2:00 P.M., with a home match at Crocker Field. Coach Don Franciosi is hoping for a fine turnout of spectators.

TRACK

Submitted by: J. R. P.

April 3, 1967

On April 25, the Varsity Track Team will open its 1967 season in a dual meet against Lyndon State College of Lyndon, Vermont at the Bernardian Bowl in Lyndon. For the past two years, the Falcons have placed second in the final standings of the New England State College Athletic Conference (NESCAC). This year's team has a large group of returning lettermen who hopefully will push F.S.C. to the top of the NESCAC.

Among the returning veterans are junior Bob Day, who last year took a first in the NESCAC with a 175' 9½" effort in the javelin, and junior Mike Peck, with firsts in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Other familiar faces are senior Ray Bouchard in the 440 and the 880; junior Lenny Amburgey in the mile run; Sophomore Gary Mitchell in the hurdles and the high jump; and Dennis Kelly in the hurdles and the pole vault.

Other members returning from last year's squad are senior Joao Rodrigues; juniors Peter Johnson, Bill Reed, George Shelton, Ed Willwerth, and Ron Zeliski; and Sophomores Robert Alves, Larry Cannon, Mark Gendron, Phil Jacobs, Phil Knowlton, and Joe Wessling. Incidentally, we hope that Ron Zeliski does not hurt himself this year in breaking the tape at the finish line.

The Kampus Vue would like to take this opportunity to welcome Mr. David Settele as the new track coach and wish him and his team the best of luck for a successful season.
